JUDGMENT ON NOTES

Question Whether Mortgaged Property Shall Satisfy Debt.

FROM HARPER COUNTY

Interesting Case For Appellate Court.

E. T. Schuyler of Bluff City, Kan., bought a note and mortgage made to B. F. Clark in 1893 and indorsed, the amount being $900. The security was an eighty-acre farm in Harper county. The mortgage and promissory note were signed by C. C. Fowler and Matilda Fowler, his wife.

After the paper was indorsed over to Schuyler, C. C. Fowler died, and his wife, Matilda Fowler, and C. R. Fowler and Orion Fowler, his children, became heirs. The note was not paid. Schuyler began foreclosure proceedings in the district court, and the land was ordered sold by the court. Judge McKay's decree included a personal judgment against Orion Fowler instead of Orion Fowler, the name being wrong. The judgment amounted to $700. The land brought only $600. Fowler made a motion to vacate the judgment, on the grounds, first, a mistake of the clerk and irregularity in obtaining judgment; second, that no such personal judgment was rendered in the action against the defendant; third, that no personal judgment was rendered in the action, as required by law. In reality the plea was to have the land selling for $600 cancel a debt of $700, or the property for the debt, a principle that has been advocated much in Kansas.

The land was sold under judgment for $700 and brought only $600. Schuyler being the best bidder, and Judge McKay vacated the judgment against Fowler. Schuyler brings the case to the appellate court and insists that the mortgage and note have not been satisfied, but that he is entitled to a personal judgment against the Fowlers for the balance due and interest at 10 per cent. The question has been up a number of times and the action of the appellate court will be watched with great interest.

The case is brought by H. Lowell Jones, county attorney of Harper county, who was recently mixed up in the big whisky fight in Harper county.

"OUR BIRTHDAY PARTY"

Unique Invitations by Young Peoples Chapter of St. John's.
Under the heading "Our Birthday Party," the Young People's Chapter of St. John's Episcopal church have issued the following invitation to a social and party, to be given at Sedgewick music hall, Saturday, February 3, at 8 p. m. If all the delightful things set forth in this jingling invitation are realized it will be a great affair:

We're the jolly young folks' chapter,
And we're working hard, you know,
To give a birthday party,
And to make the thing a go.
So with lots of fun and frolic,
And with music sweet and rare,
And with dainty games and bits on,
And with nicely crimped hair,
We will promise you an evening
Which you never will forget.
Which will linger in your memory
Like a jewel richly set.
You will have a feast of reason
And a sparkling flow of soul,
Something on the stage to look at,
And a lunch to crown the whole.
You'll have motion set to music,
And some songs in "upper G."
And some joys we can not picture,
For you'll have to come and see!
So next Saturday at the Sedgewick
Hand this bag in at the door.
Put in what your age would count for,
Something less or something more,
And we'll promise you an evening,
Which you never will forget.
But if you should chance to miss it,
Days of sorrow and regret.

Its keynote may be caught from his expression of the American youth, standing one evening on the Juttenhuhl east of Gersprete Thurm of the Schloss of Heidelberg, that most magnificent ruin in all Germany, when, rising
